

RUTGERS, THE STATE UNIVERSITY OF NEW JERSEY

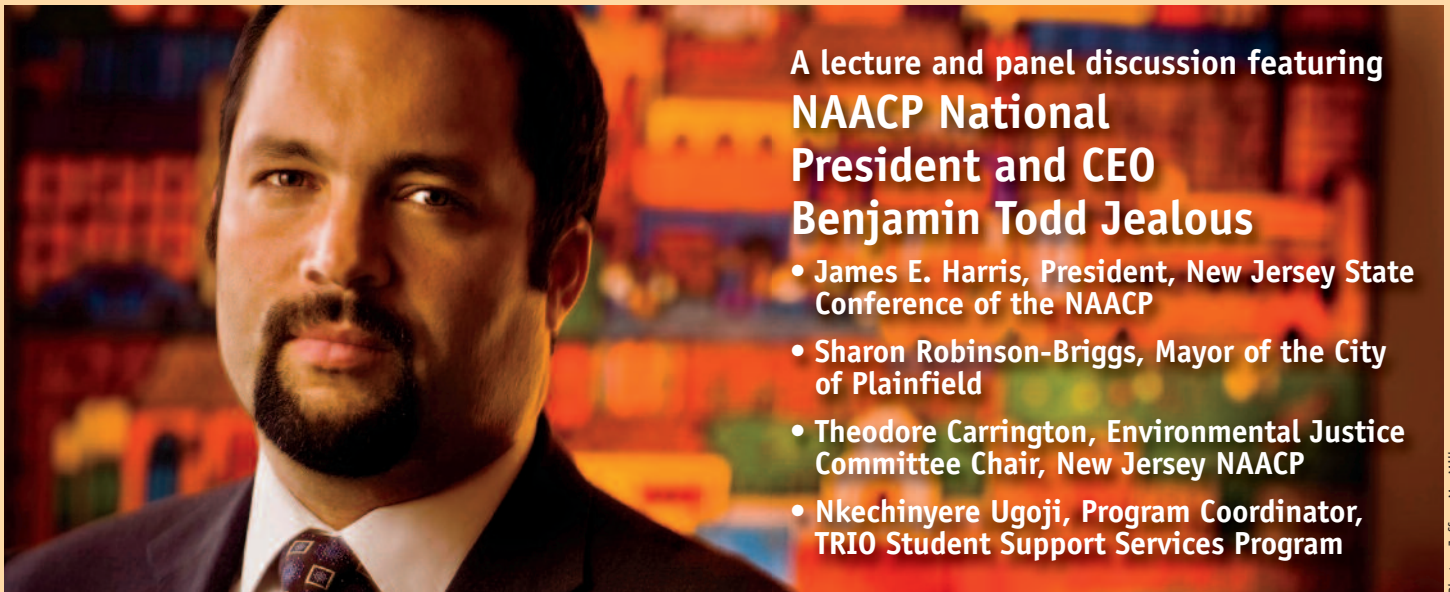

The Department of

AFRICANA STUDIES

40th Anniversary Celebration

The Power of Change: 100 Years of the NAACP

Civil Rights in the Age of Obama

A lecture and panel discussion featuring
NAACP National President and CEO
Benjamin Todd Jealous

- James E. Harris, President, New Jersey State Conference of the NAACP
- Sharon Robinson-Briggs, Mayor of the City of Plainfield
- Theodore Carrington, Environmental Justice Committee Chair, New Jersey NAACP
- Nkechinyere Ugoji, Program Coordinator, TRIO Student Support Services Program

Photo: Jeffrey MacMillan

During the 1950s and 1960s, major civil rights achievements included the legal victories of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) and the recognition of Africana studies as a discipline and departmental designation at Rutgers. In commemorating the 40th anniversary of the Department of Africana Studies, Rutgers is honored to mark the 100th anniversary of the NAACP.

A question-and-answer period and refreshments will follow the program.

Tuesday, October 27 • 7 p.m.

Multipurpose Room • Rutgers Student Center

126 College Avenue • New Brunswick, NJ

africanastudies.rutgers.edu

Sponsored by the Office of the President, the Office of the Executive Vice President for Academic Affairs, the School of Arts and Sciences, and the Department of Africana Studies. Cosponsored by the Student Chapter of the NAACP.

RUTGERS

School of Arts and Sciences